b present

People who care.
Support that lasts.

You're not in this alone.

Free resources for young adults with cancer and the people who care about them.

b-present helps young adults with cancer stay connected to the people who care about them through practical tools, guidance, and community.

We're here for you when...

- You want support, but sometimes it feels hard to explain what you need.
- The people in your life care about you, but may not what to say or do.
- Support showed up at first, but has changed over time.
- You want to stay connected without having to manage everything yourself.
- A friend, partner, family memer or supporter wants guidance too.

What you'll find

Support Starter Kit

A guided experience designed to help you feel more connected and supported.

Supporter Roadmap

Practical guidance for you and the people who want to show up for you.

b-there App

A private supoprt app for sharing updates and coordinating support.

Resource Library

Helpful tools, ideas and resources you can explore at your own pace.

Learn more and get started.

b-present.org

Resources. Connection. Support.
For every step of the way.

Because life doesn't stop when cancer shows up.
We're here for what's next.

Together We Shine.